The Most Important Offering of the Season A Sale of Misses' Winter Coats

---in four groups---each remarkably low priced---

At 25.00

Regularly 35.00 and 37.50

Practical models for street wear, in practical fabrics, too, such as all wool heather coatings and two-tone chinchillas, smartly tailored and belted, with raglan sleeves and trig pockets. Silk lined throughout.

At 29.75

Regularly 42.50

Mannishly tailored models that show their simplicity to advantage when plaid back tweeds, all wool camel's hair and heather coatings develop them, and boast, besides, clever touches that make them distinctive. They are equally appropriate for sports or street wear, and are of the swagger type.

At 39.50

Regularly 59.50

Fur collared coats in all wool Bolivia, Normandy and Erminie, luxuriously collared in wolf, caracul, Australian opossum and raccoon. Silk lined throughout and warmly interlined.

At 49.75

Regularly 69.50 to 79.50

Dressy fur trimmed coats that speak of Youth in every graceful line—fashioned of Panvelaine, Pollyanna, Tasmania and Normandy, in long waisted, straight of line, bloused or semi-bloused models with large collars of beaver, natural or black caracul, wolf and Australian opossum, many with cuffs.

The Important Annual January

Sale of Fine Furs

Begins tomorrow and affords

Remarkable Savings From Regular Prices

Never before have New York women had such an opportunity to secure really fine furs at such low prices. To begin with, we purchased our furs when the pendulum swung too far on the downward trend, which in itself means a big saving from prices quoted by any other house. Now that we have reduced our already low prices a double saving is yours. Every kind of pelt is advancing daily, and you cannot help but make a splendid investment by purchasing your fur coat now in this important January sale.
